Description

A handy mobile charging cable for phones, tablets, cameras, GPS etc. It offers four different connectors in one compact unit which lights up when it is being used. Cypher has a USB connector cable which snaps into the housing when not in use to make a handy loop for securing it to bags and key rings. The other three cables feature a Micro-B connector, a Lightning connector and a USB Type-C connector. This device is for charging only and is not designed for data connections.
